Riverside Victorian cottage. Featuring an impressive juxtaposition between the incredibly close proximity of Guildford train station just opposite and the tranquility of the River Wey gliding by to the rear, this two double bedroom extended cottage offers the best of a number of worlds.

Being double fronted, the accommodation on both first and second floors is arranged either side of a central entrance hall and landing. To the left hand side is the sitting room, so detached from the neighbouring property, with a Victorian fireplace with gas fire. The house has been single-storey extended right across the rear so the sitting room now leads through into an additional reception area which would work very nicely as a study area. To the right hand side, the dining room features a lovely full height, exposed brick open fireplace and leads through into the kitchen. Very smartly appointed featuring quartz stone work surfaces and integrated appliances. A good size bathroom, tiled in natural Travertine stone includes a thermostatic shower and automatic lighting.

Upstairs there are two good double sized bedrooms, both of which are twin aspect with rear views looking up and down the River Wey. There is also scope to add an extension to the first floor at the rear. We understand that some structural work has been carried out and planning has been approved to assist this process. Upon request we can provide the proposed plans to add a third bedroom and upstairs bathroom.

- No onward chain
- Planning permission for rear extension
- Central location
- 2 minutes walk to railway station
